

Bird remains being removed from Eason
Hangar netting

Blood from Pigeon remains falling from overhead netting onto workers

Feathers, Bones from pigeon remains that have fallen from the overhead netting onto workers

Entry point for the birds.

The Bird netting was never completed up through this portion of the hangar in the door area. There is an approximately 12" gap all around.

Above the netting:
this is where the
pigeons and the hawk are nesting

Entry point for birds was along this section of the door track
